I am very disturned to hear that satellite radio is under attack from the FCC. I have been a subsriber now for a year and a half and absolutely love it. I would not know what I would do without it. I pay for this service and would be very upset if it were to be cancelled. They offer a variety of services including weather and news that I need for my job. The NAB should be ashamed of themselves for trying to interfere with XM satellite radios first admendment rights. I hope you rethink this action.
